AND THWARTED ROBBERY

Six Masked Men Who Had Held Up Ada,
Ohio, Cashier, Fled With Only Six
Dollars, and Their Capture Is Expected.

Ada, Ohio, July 21.—At the pistol point six masked men early to-day forced Clyde Sharp, cashier of the First National bank of this place, to leave his bed and go to the bank. Arriving at the bank the men always at the point of the pistol commanded Sharp to open the door of the vault. The cashier complied with their demand.

However, just as he was opening the inner door, Sharp by a clever move set off the fire alarm. The robbers fled after taking six dollars from the cash drawer. A posse was soon organized and is now chasing the robbers. It is expected that they will be captured before night.

BOSTON MAN DROWNED
RESCUING DAUGHTERRobert H. Bowman Jumped Into Water
To Save His Deaf and Dumb
Child and Lost His Own Life.

Boston, July 21.—While trying to rescue his deaf and dumb daughter Nadine, aged 10 years from Muddy river, at the corner of Commonwealth avenue and Charlestown street in the Back Bay last night, Robert H. Bowman, a prominent lawyer, lost his life.

Nadine was playing near the bridge when she fell into the water. Mr. Bowman instantly jumped after her, but the child's struggles were so violent he could not bring her ashore. Abraham Seguin of Cambridge, a bystander, plunged in to his rescue and brought the child ashore.

T. L. Southwick of Dorchester threw a life preserver to Mr. Bowman, who was rapidly becoming exhausted; but as Mr. Bowman clutched the buoy it crumbled in his grasp and before a plank or rope could be thrown to him he sank. His body was recovered. Mr. Bowman was 47 years old.

A BASE BALL DICKER.

Boston Americans Trade Pruiett, Pitcher, for Thielman.

Boston, July 21.—Pres. John I. Taylor yesterday accepted a proposition made by Napoleon Lajoie to trade pitcher Thielman for Charley Pruiett.

On the last trip here of the Clevelanders, Thielman pitched a clever game against the Red Sox, using fine curves and showing pretty good form, so that a proposition from Lajoie to trade Thielman for Pruiett, or one other pitcher now with the locals, was taken under consideration, and last night President Taylor telegraphed Manager Lajoie that he would accept, naming Pruiett in the deal.

Pruett has looked pretty good at times, and Manager McGuire had great faith in bringing the boy out as a winner, but luck has been against him, and a trade was considered the best thing for the club.

Thielman was with the New York Giants for a year, and after a change or two landed in Cleveland last season. He has worked very little this season, but is considered a fairly good man when in proper shape. He will be given a good trial, and has the chance of his life with the Red Sox.

Macedonia.

St. Petersburg, July 21.—Fouchard, the French ambassador, and the Russian foreign minister, Isvolsky, to-day reached an agreement that France and Russia will aid Turkey if the sultan proves himself unable to crush Macedonia. Other powers, they say, will be forced to join them in preserving the integrity of the Turkish empire.

THREATENED HIS MOTHER
IN DEMAND FOR $5,000Complaint Made Against a New York
Banker Who Was Arrested at His Home Last Night.

New York, July 21.—John A. Van Rensselaer, son of Mrs. John King Van Rensselaer, and a member of one of New York's oldest families, was taken into custody last night on a charge of attempting extortion. The arrest was made on advice from Chief of Police Crowley of New York, R. I. who received a complaint from Mrs. Van Rensselaer that her son had written a letter threatening her with bodily harm unless she provided him with funds. Van Rensselaer is 34 years old and married.

Van Rensselaer is connected with a local brokerage house and when he returned to his home last night on Waverly place he was placed under arrest by detectives who produced the letter alleged to have been written by Van Rensselaer to his mother. The detectives and Lieutenant Mannion before whom Van Rensselaer was brought in the police station, declare that the young man stated that he had written the letter, which without any conventional beginning or ending and of which the postscript is unsigned. The letter reads:

"I have just seen Lawrence Lee, and I am given to understand that you will pay $300 per month for my board if I will go 300 miles from New York and that I must have your written consent to leave the place that you may select."

"Did it ever occur to you that I have an absolute remainder interest in Aunt Frances' estate's securities and that by blowing your head off, that my wife would have an income sufficient to support her?"

"I will take that course if necessary and upon my head will rest the consequences."

"That is still alive, maybe I will be. In any case, my wife, God bless her, will benefit by your demise, even if I don't."

"I have seen many disagreements and much suffering in my life and I must say that most of it is due to you, a selfish peacock, whose name in these times amounts to nothing, and who is almost if not entirely forgotten, in circles once read."

"I am now in no humor to be trifled with, and I wish to go on record that I will take action on sight, unless something is done at once. You gave Harold $5,000 and a trip to Europe. What have I had for being honest?"

(Signed)

"J. A. Rensselaer."

MORNING FIRE IN NASHUA

Blunt Building Was Burned Out This Morning Early

Nashua, N. H., July 21.—Fire of a most spectacular kind was discovered at 12:30 this morning in the two and one-half story frame building at the corner of Pine and Chestnut streets owned by the estate of Charles Blunt, and occupied chiefly by the grocery store of J. L. Lucier.

The building is a very old one and the store is the oldest in the city that has continued in the same line of business year after year.

The cause of the fire is unknown, but it was discovered in the grocery store by Officer Charles Buckham, who was passing, and at that time it had secured quite a hold upon the building and the flames were mounting up as if fed by a quantity of oil. The officer rang in box 7 and the department speedily responded but it had a hard fight for an hour and a half before the all-out was sounded.

The flames spread rapidly and several women in the family of Napoleon Sirios, who occupied one of the upstairs tenements, had a narrow escape, but were rescued by the firemen.

The building was tenanted on the ground floor by the Lucier grocery store, which occupied the corner, and by Edward Cote, barber, and A. F. Kelley, shoemaker. Cote also occupied a tenement above and there were two other families in the building, those of Francois Cassista and Ovid Polrein.

The building was pretty well gutted and the loss upon the same will be about $4,000.

Mr. Curny jumped and fell under the train. Mr. Welch and Miss Bruyn were carried 400 feet on the engine pilot and Mr. Huberland was thrown out. The automobile was demolished.

PLANNING A CAMPAIGN.

Prominent Republicans Met in Burlington To-day.

Burlington, July 21.—The Republican state committee met today in this city to plan a campaign for the summer and fall. The campaign will open on August 1. Among those present today were Frank Plumley of Northfield, candidate for Congress from the second district, Senator W. P. Dillingham and several members of the Republican state ticket. They will decide today on the speakers for the campaign.

HALF A CROP

Of Hay Is Being Cut in Addison County
This Season.

Middlebury, July 21.—In Addison county this season but one half the average crop of hay is being cut. Some farmers are inclined to think that the lack of June rains is the reason for the light crop, while others are of the opinion that the seed sown last year was winter-killed, there not being snow enough to keep the ground warm and preserve it. The average yield of hay throughout the county this summer is about 900 pounds to the acre.

FORMER MONTPELIER MAN.

Frederick W. Shontell Candidate for Office in Manchester, N. H.

Manchester, N. H., July 21.—Frederick W. Shontell of this city has formally announced his candidacy for the Republican nomination for councilor in the second district, although his intimate friends have known of his aspirations in that direction for nearly a year. Mr. Shontell was born in Montpelier, Vt., but has been a resident of this city since 1878, and possesses a very wide acquaintance. When he first came here he entered the employ of the Amoskeag Manufacturing company. He then became a clerk with Plummer & Holton in their clothing business. He worked for a time in the drug store of A. D. Smith, and subsequently in that of John B. Hall. Continuing in this line of work, he was two years in Nashua, and then served as a traveling salesman for eight years for a chemical company. Since 1895, he has been clerk in the office of what is now the Manchester Traction, Light and Power company.

He has always been a Republican, being one of the most active workers in ward 4. He has been a candidate for but one elective political office, that of state senator, winning the nomination in a determined contest, and being triumphantly elected in 1900, and he was one of the most active members of the legislature. He served one term as a trustee of the School for Feeble Minded Children, it being in that term that the institution was established and entered upon its most beneficent mission.

WALKING TO MARSHFIELD.

Novel Stunt by Massachusetts Boys
For Vacation.

Lowell, Mass., July 21.—Harold, George and Ernest Town of Danvers, aged respectively 13, 11, and 10, and their collie dog left Danvers secretly Sunday to walk to Marshfield, Vt., where Ernest, the youngest boy, had his vacation last summer.

The father promised to take Ernest with him again this year, but business cares delayed him and the boys decided to start themselves. Mr. Town was delighted when told by telephone that his missing boys were here and he was soon in Lowell. The dog who had been placed in the police stable, nearly howled over the boys with carcases when released.

"MONTANA HARRY" ARRESTED.

Medicine Vender Charged with Statutory Offense at Milford.

Milford, Mass., July 21.—Henry Powell, a traveling vender of medicines, was placed under arrest last evening by Chief of Police O'Neil, on complaint of Miss Marion Harris, an employee at the Lincoln house, charging a statutory offense. The complainant alleges the offense took place in Powell's room at the hotel, where she had gone to seek a cure for rheumatism.

She has formerly been an attendant in the Westboro asylum and is subject to attacks of hysteria.

Powell's business name is Montana Harry and he stoutly denies the charge, and Landlord John H. Stratton is unconvinced of its accuracy.

FORMER WIFE BANKRUPT.

Actress Testifies Her Recent Tours Have Been Failures.

New York, July 21.—Mrs. Leslie Carter, divorced some years ago and remarried, but who retains her first husband's name for the stage, testified yesterday that she is now without funds, deeply in debt, and that her last theatrical tour, undertaken under her own management, was a financial failure. Her appearance before the United States commissioner was brought about by a summons compelled her to submit to examination in an effort to discover other assets than those given in the schedule which she filed with a petition in bankruptcy some time ago.

Mrs. Carter said her financial troubles dated back prior to November, 1907, when, for a second time, she started out for a road tour under her own management. "We had little more than our railroad fares when we started out that time," she said. "It had cost us a lot of money to get the scenery out of storage. The tour was not a profitable one. In fact, we had a loss."

INCENDIARY FIRE PLANNED.

Attempt Was Nipped by the Cambridge
Police.

Cambridge, Mass., July 21.—A plan to burn a three-family apartment house, more elaborate, the police say, than has come to light in recent years, was discovered yesterday at 1657 Cambridge street. The incendiary apparently aimed to secure the firing of the house and at the same time avoid suspicion.

The hallway of the house, the mats, floors and even the wall paper and wooden walls had been smeared with kerosene, and the surface over which anyone entering the house must walk had been well sprinkled with the heads of snap matches. The plan had been, apparently, to make it impossible for anyone to pass through the hall without igniting some of the match heads, in which case all the surroundings were drenched with oil. A milkman discovered the trap and notified the police, who are conducting an investigation.

TALK OF THE TOWN.

Edward O'pergelt of Woodstock, Ill., is visiting in the city for a few days. Mr. O'pergelt will be remembered as "Bobby Burns," the old intercity pitcher.

TWO BODIES
RECOVEREDVictims of Double Drowning
Tragedy at Lyndonville

ONE WAS AN ONLY CHILD

Thought That Boys Went Out in a Boat and, Becoming Alarmed When They Lost Control of Boat, Jumped Into River.

Lyndonville, July 21.—Two sets of boys' wearing apparel found on the bank of the river last evening strengthened the fears that had come with the failure of two boys to return home. A few hours later the fears were confirmed when two little bodies were removed from the river, and two homes were darkened by the hand of death. The victims of the double drowning were:

Leo, aged 8, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Beauregard.

William, aged 7, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Jock.

The details of the drowning were not known, and probably never will be known; but the boys went out to the river bank of the schoolhouse yesterday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock. When Mr. Beauregard got home from his work and found his son still missing, he started in search; and it was soon found that the Jock boy was also missing. The search led to the river and there on the bank they found several articles of clothing. The river was then searched, resulting in the recovery of the bodies at about 8:30 o'clock.

The body of the Beauregard boy was found in what is called the "sucker hole" and that of the Jock boy about 150 feet further down the stream. The water was about ten feet deep. Where they apparently had gone into the water there is a shallow place. Both the bodies had some clothing on, which leads to the belief that they had gone in wading. A boat, usually tied nearby, is missing, and this fact indicates that the boys after wading around got into the boat and shoved out from the shore. Perhaps they became alarmed when they lost control of the boat and first one jumped out and then the other; which might account for the finding of their bodies so far separated.

William Jock was the only child of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Jock, while Leo Beauregard leaves one sister and a brother who was younger than he.

OAKES PERSISTENT.

Avoids Sunday Closing in Brattleboro.

Brattleboro, July 21.—The campaign for Sunday closing took another turn yesterday. Charles Oakes, who pitched a tent on the island in the Connecticut river opposite this village Sunday, and dispensed ice cream, soda and cigars without being molested, being on New Hampshire territory, was notified yesterday by a representative of the Connecticut river power company which controls the land where the tent stood, that the company would not allow the use of any land under its control to be used for purposes contrary to the policy of Brattleboro, and that consequently he must not sell any more refreshments there on Sunday. The use of the land Sunday came about through a misunderstanding.

Mr. Oakes said last night that he was negotiating with persons who control land on another section of the island and that should open up again next Sunday.

JUDGE IS GOING TO SEE

Before He Announces Decision in a Montpelier Row.

There are so many conflicting statements regarding a neighborhood row in the Sweeney building, Court street, in Montpelier, that Judge Harvey of the Montpelier city court is going to look the premises over before he announces a decision in the case brought against James Hanrahan for breach of the peace. The case was heard in the court to-day, the arrest growing out of an altercation on Sunday between Hanrahan and Mrs. George Stone. The respondent made a vigorous defense of himself, and others were equally as vigorous in asserting that Hanrahan was no gentleman.

PUNCTURES HIS OWN BOOM.

Joseph A. DeBoer Is Not a Candidate for Speaker of the House.

The speakership-boom for Joseph A. DeBoer of Montpelier in the event of his election to the legislature as representative from Montpelier, has been punctured by Mr. DeBoer himself, who states that he had promised to support Thomas C. Cheney of Morrisville for that position. Mr. DeBoer says that he has no aspirations for the exacting and confining duties which fall to the speaker of the Vermont House.

TO-NIGHT IN BARRE.

Moving pictures, opera house.
The Comique picture show, A. Tomasi block.
Theaterium, 40 Main street.
Massucco's theatre, Scamplin block.

ALL KINDS OF WEAPONS.

Sticks, Stones, Flatirons and Hot
Words Alleged to Have Figured.

One judge, five jurymen, two attorneys, two interpreters, six witnesses, the respondent and a string of spectators had their time up in city court yesterday from two o'clock in the afternoon until six at night by the case in which Mrs. Frank Wood was charged with a breach of the peace. The woman's arrest is the result of a neighbors misunderstanding which took place a week ago today between the respondent and Mrs. Jennie Cavanna, who lives in the same house. After hearing two hours of testimony and two pleas and the judge's charge the jurors were unable to agree and were discharged.

The need of a universal language is often felt in city court but never more so than yesterday, when two interpreters were needed for the witnesses. William Miers acted in that capacity during the testimony of Mrs. Emma Krichie, a German woman, and the services of Joseph Connolly were required in a like capacity for Mrs. Ovasolia Vilas.

The first witness called by the state was Mrs. Jennie Cavanna who alleges that she was on the business end of a stick which was thrown by the respondent.

Mrs. Cavanna, in her testimony, stated that she had some high words with Mrs. Wood and that later she threw a stick of wood and hit her on the hand. After this Mrs. Cavanna threw a stone through the window of Mrs. Wood's room.

The testimony of Mary Krichie, Mrs. Emma Krichie, Mrs. Ovasolia Vilas practically corroborated the testimony of Mrs. Cavanna, and Dr. Ghidella testified that he dressed an abrasion on Mrs. Cavanna's hand.

The state here rested and the defense's first witness, Mrs. Lucius Provance, was called. Mrs. Provance testified that Mrs. Cavanna walked toward Mrs. Wood with two stones in her hands and that when the latter went into her house she threw the stones, one of them at least going through the window. Witness stated that Mrs. Wood then came out and threw a stick at Mrs. Cavanna. Mrs. Cavanna went to her room and later came out with a flat iron in her hand and said that if Mrs. Wood came out she would kill her. Mrs. Wood, the respondent, told her story in practically the same manner as Mrs. Provance had already related.

The jury worked on the case for over an hour and after being instructed once by the judge and being sent back once to reconsider, stated through the foreman Ned J. Roberts, that they were unable to agree and were ordered discharged. The case will be continued until a later date to be decided by the attorneys in the case.

HAD A HARD TIME
GETTING TO BARREOur Central Vermont Branch Threw a Train Twice and Delayed Matters for a Long While—No One Was Hurt.

The Central Vermont passenger train made two unsuccessful attempts to get to this city from Montpelier last evening between 4 o'clock and 11 o'clock, going off the iron both times. The first time they were wrecked just south of the covered bridge at the electric car barn. The trucks of the tender left the rails and tore up the track for several rods before the train was stopped. This was the train due in Barre at 4:40. The coaches did not leave the iron and about eight o'clock an engine was sent up from Montpelier and pulled the cars back to the capital. They started for Barre again at 11 o'clock and had got only a few rods by the Wells River station when the engine jumped the rails and two cars followed. The cars were run back onto the iron and another engine was brought into service, and the run was finally made to this city over the Wells River track, reaching here at two o'clock this morning.

CLOSING OF CENTENNIAL

With An Address By the Rev. F. A.
Poole of Barre Church.

The centennial of Bethany Congregational church of Montpelier was ended last night. At six o'clock a supper was served to the members of the parish and guests, at which time greetings were received from the other churches of the city and from the city government. This was followed by the closing service of the celebration. The address of the evening was given by the Rev. F. A. Poole, pastor of the Barre Congregational church, who took for a subject "The Church of Yesterday and the Church of To-day." A musical program was rendered by the Montpelier Military Band orchestra.

BLAKELY—ASHLINE.

Married Yesterday Afternoon by the Rev.
E. O. Thayer.

Miss Hattie Mae Ashline, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Ashline of South Barre, and Chester H. Blakely were united in marriage at 2:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon by the Rev. E. O. Thayer at the Methodist parsonage. Mr. and Mrs. Blakely left on the three o'clock train for a two weeks' visit with relatives in the northern part of the state and on their return will reside at 39 South Main street. The groom is a popular clerk in A. A. Smith & Brother's store.

GAVE UP LIFE
TO SAVE HATGaudenzio Warforio Leaped
From an Electric Car

AND LANDED ON HIS HEAD

Barre Italian, a Victim of Second Car
Fatality, Lost His Life in Effort to Recover Property Whisked Off by the Wind.

The wind having blown his hat off, Gaudenzio Warforio, who resided at 102 Smith street, jumped off backwards from a fast moving electric car after it and was dashed head first onto the rocks in the brook which runs by the intercity grounds at Benjamin's Falls at nine o'clock last evening, dying later at the City hospital. The place is only a few feet from where H. H. Perkins of Berlin was fatally injured two weeks ago by stepping off while a car was in motion.

Marforio was standing on the running-board of a Barre-bound car, talking with some companions who were in the seats, when the wind suddenly took his hat. Witnesses of the accident say that he turned and, looking back for an instant, jumped from the platform. The car, which was in charge of Conductor Charles Page and Motorman Laird, was going at a fast rate and when the man struck the ground a few feet from where the car passes over the brook which comes down from the Falls, he was thrown backwards and down into the brook, a distance of four or five feet.

The car was quickly stopped, and the frightened passengers all ran back to the edge of the brook and saw the apparently lifeless body of the unfortunate man lying on the rocks in several inches of water. Eager hands soon lifted the man from the brook and placed him on the floor of the car, and he was brought as far as Berlin street, where he was taken into Angelo Scampin's house.

An ambulance was then called and he was then taken to the hospital, where his injuries were examined by Drs. E. G. Guidelli, W. E. Lazell and M. L. Chandler. They found that the top of his skull was crushed it. He died, without regaining consciousness, at two o'clock this morning. He was 27 years old and was born in Italy. He leaves a wife and one child, four weeks old.

FORECLOSURE IS SOUGHT

Against Quarry Property of James B.
Campbell's Company.

Another chapter in the tangled affairs of the United States Quarries and Granite Construction company, James B. Campbell, president, came out in the filing of a petition in chancery yesterday by the Granite Savings Bank and Trust company for foreclosure of a mortgage for $2,000 held by the bank on quarry property purchased by Mr. Campbell, December 7, 1906, of Louisa and Adelaide Bond.

The suit is termed "Granite Savings Bank and Trust company vs. James B. Campbell et al." the other defendants being John Campbell and Lonie M. Campbell of Ballston, N. Y., and several other parties who lay claim to part of the quarry land, being Katherine W. Sterling, F. A. Walker and Walker & Gailson. The mortgage was given on a promissory note December 10, 1906, and the petition claims the note is unpaid.

Hearing on the foreclosure proceedings has been set for Tuesday, September 8, at Montpelier. Frank J. Martin is the solicitor for the petitioner, or orator.

A BURNS ANNIVERSARY

Monument, Garlanded To-day, Was Built
Nine Years Ago.

To-day, the anniversary of the death of Robert Burns, was remembered by the Burns club and according to the club's annual custom the Burns monument is decorated with laurel wreaths. Robert Burns died 112 years ago to-day and the monument which was erected by his admirers in this city was unveiled nine years ago to-day. A coincidence connected with the anniversary is the fact that the funeral of James Campbell, a former president of the Burns club and strongly interested in the erection of the memorial, was held this afternoon.

Mr. Campbell was master of ceremonies at the unveiling of the monument, and Robert Inglis was president of the club at that time. The monument was unveiled by Miss Florence Inglis, daughter of the president.

The Barre Burns club was founded in 1899, and of the original members but three remain. They are Robert Inglis, William Mackie and Alex. M. Smith.

WAS DEAD IN BED.

A Five-months-old Boy May Have Died of Heart Failure.

The funeral services of Kenneth Wifham, the five-months-old son of Mr. and Mrs. William A. Fraser, who reside on the East hill, were held from the house at two o'clock this afternoon, the Rev. Mr. Cameron officiating. The interment was in the Hope cemetery. The boy was four days in
